England Bows 1-0 To Wales Team In Soccer Meet

WEST BROMWICH, England (Reuter)—England, unbeaten in the last three years, lost 1 to 0 in an international soccer match against Wales this afternoon, played before a 56,000 crowd here.

The only goal scored was by Aubrey Powell of Leeds United, on leave from Germany, who finished the game with two bandaged ankles. Wales were also handicapped by other injuries, but held England to the end after scoring in the 33rd minute.

Rangers and Motherwell are now sharing the top position in the Scottish Football League's Division "A" after games today in which the former first-place Motherwell squad played to a scoreless draw with Hibernians, while Rangers defeated Queens Park 2 to 0.

Hibernians share second place with Hearts, who tied with Queen of the South, 3-all.

Street Fighting Rages in Caracas Says Broadcast

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The San Cristobal radio declared tonight President Ismael Medina y Angarita had returned to the seat of the Venezuela government in Caracas after the revolutionists were ousted from Miraflores Palace.

By Associated Press

The San Cristobal radio station, which is in the hands of Venezuela government forces, declared tonight loyal troops were fighting the revolutionists "street by street and house by house" in the capital, city of Caracas, it was reported in Bogota, Colombia.

Previous contradictory radio announcements indicated fighting still continued today in Venezuela, where revolutionists led by a group of young officers claimed to be in possession of the capital city, Caracas.

Although the revolutionists in their first announcements from the Caracas station claimed general success for their surprise movement begun Thursday, the Tachira radio 400 miles away in western Venezuela said Gen. David Lopez Hernandez had taken command of government forces and was beginning a march on Caracas.

The Tachira station denied the claims of the revolutionists that President Ismael Medina y Angarita was a captive of the insurgents, and declared he still was fighting at the head of loyal forces in Caracas.

The Caracas station said troops headed by Henriquez had been repelled, but the Tachira broadcast said Henriquez continued to advance.

Increasingly bad reception prevented a full recording of the Tachira broadcasts.

STRIKERS TO RETURN

At Santiago, Chile, a government communique expressed confidence today a quick solution would be found for strikes involving nearly 30,000 nitrate and copper workers in northern Chile.

A majority of the 22,000 nitrate workers have agreed to return to their jobs tomorrow, the communique said, and it added that the 7,500 striking copper miners at Chuquibambilla probably would return to work Monday. If they failed to do so, the communique said, the government was ready to take "irrevocable and inflexible action."

School Baker Dies In Portland Blast

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Charles Auth, 50, school baker, died today as the result of an explosion which demolished the Hill Military Academy's mess hall, and injured 12 others.

Two young boy pupils and the sister-in-law of the school director were reported in critical condition today.

The explosion, which hurled a water boiler through the walls and 60 feet up an embankment, occurred Friday, shortly after a luncheon crowd of boys had left the mess hall.

Authorities were still seeking to determine the cause of the explosion. One theory was steam pressure.

See With Ultra-violet When Lense Removed

NEW YORK (CP)—Ultra-violet vision, a remarkable discovery by a young English physicist, A. G. Gayden, is possessed by persons operated on for cataract and acquire the capacity to see in ultra-violet light, Prof. George Waldo of the Harvard Biological Laboratories, said today.

The normal eye cannot see in ultra-violet light, he told the Optical Society of America.

Dr. Waldo said when the lens is removed in a cataract operation, ultra-violet light can penetrate the eye and reach the sensitive retina.

Typhoon Strikes U.S. Navy at Okinawa

Typhoon which swept Okinawa last week caused depth charges to explode on careening decks of U.S. navy ships and sailors to be swallowed up in huge whirlpools. Mass wreckage shown resulted when the U.S.S. Ocelot collided with another vessel during 140-mile wind. More than 130 ships were driven aground.

Baillie-Stewart Flown to London To Face Charge of Aiding Enemy

LONDON (AP)—To answer new charges of aiding Germany, Norman Baillie-Stewart, former Seaford Highlander in the British Army known as "The Officer in the Tower" was flown here from Brussels today.

At his arraignment in Bow Street police station the exact charge against the pallid 36-year-old former officer was not announced.

He was a predecessor, however, of William Joyce, "Lord Haw Haw," who has been sentenced to death, in making broadcasts for the enemy.

Baillie-Stewart was identified in 1933 as the mysterious officer in the London Tower, and was tried before a court martial on a charge of selling secret information to a German agent for $250.

In his trial he said the money was given to him by a girl for his affections. He finally was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and dishonorable discharge.

Later he declared he had been tricked into a confession by a promise of release.

In 1937 he was released by the government. The release caused considerable controversy in Parliament, where the policies of the late Neville Chamberlain were under fire.

Last May U.S. troops captured Baillie-Stewart in Austria. He had renounced his British birthright and claimed Austrian citizenship following Hitler's occupation of the country.

His case is to come before the Bow Street magistrate Monday.

Churchill Anxious About Party Politics

LONDON (Reuter)—Winston Churchill today expressed anxiety Britain's return to party government might lead to serious divisions in the British people.

Speaking at a ceremony where he received the honorary freedom of the Borough of Wandsworth and Woodford—part of which has elected him to the House of Commons for many years—the British war leader declared:

"It would indeed be grievous if the rift between us deepened and widened until it became a gulf, while all the time the problems and dangers which beset would tax to the full our united fraternal strength."

Mr. Churchill pledged he would always "strive to preserve those causes of British splendor and human freedom in which we have all so closely been bound together in the great days of the past."

Canada Packers Workers To Quit If No Agreement

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. Symington, International representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), announced today union employees at the Canada Packers' Vancouver plant have "voted unanimously" for a Dominion-wide strike.

The vote asked whether the employees were in favor of a strike if negotiations for master, Dominion-wide agreements are not obtained from Burns and Co., Swift and Co. and Canada Packers.

There are about 150 employees at the Vancouver plant of Canada Packers.

Moose Jaw Employees Give Union Go-ahead

MOOSE JAW (CP)—Employees at Swift Canadian Ltd. plant here today authorized their union, the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), to take strike action if negotiations between the union and company fail. The vote was 450-14.

1 Atom Bomb Raid Could Paralyze U.S., Says Senator

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Senator William J. Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) said today the United States was "infinitely more vulnerable" than Russia to atom bomb attacks.

Mr. Fulbright said in a speech before a Foreign Policy Association forum the 20 largest metropolitan areas of the U.S. contained 40,000,000 people and "in one night of carefully-planned attack without warning we could be paralyzed."

"Compared with the dispersion of Russian industry and population, we are infinitely more vulnerable," Mr. Fulbright said, adding:

"It is not so much the ability to make great quantities of the bombs that would count in an atomic war. Rather it is the ruthlessness and the will to attack first, without provocation, that would be decisive."

Then he asked: "Does anyone believe that America, with its history of reluctance to make war, with its aversion to militarism, will be the first to attack?"

Instead of "secretiveness and suspicion" in connection with the atom bomb manufacture, Senator Fulbright advocated "the widest possible dissemination of scientific knowledge coupled with an efficient system of control."

"If many people in all advanced nations know something about nuclear physics," he said, "it will be difficult to prepare secretly for an aggressive attack upon an unsuspecting neighbor."

"The knowledge will speed through many channels. On the other hand, in an atmosphere of suspicion and secrecy, each nation naturally and inevitably will suspect every other nation of preparing an attack and sooner or later someone will no longer endure the suspense of impending annihilation."

Remembering that "I do not believe there is a defence against total destruction inflicted instantaneously," Senator Fulbright urged a revision of the United Nations Charter to provide international vigilance by a group of scientists.

Governor May Return On Carrier Puncher

HALIFAX (CP)—The Daily Star said today it was reported the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and Princess Alice will return to Canada on the next trip of the auxiliary aircraft-carrier H.M.S. Puncher.

The Governor-General and Princess Alice have been vacationing in England for some weeks.

(At Ottawa Government House officials said arrangements for the return of the Governor-General and Princess Alice were not yet complete, but it appeared likely they might return on the Puncher.)

Airman Captured In 70 m.p.h Chase

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 70-mile-an-hour chase through Vancouver residential streets today ended in the wounding and capture of LAC. William D. Robinson, 20. Robinson's arm was shattered by a police bullet as he fled from the car after it crashed into a hedge. Police reported the car had been stolen.

Victory Loan Officials Lay Plans

J. W. Spencer, chairman of the National War Finance Committee for Vancouver Island, discusses plans to make the 9th Victory Loan campaign the most successful and largest yet, with Brig. J. M. Rockingham, D.S.O. (left), and Brig. F. N. Cabeldu, D.S.O. and bar (right), whom he has just appointed associate vice-chairmen of the War Finance Committee for the island. Mr. Spencer stressed the main purpose and theme of the two-in-one loan is rehabilitation and the men who are coming from the services are vitally concerned in seeing that it goes over the top. This morning the two brigadiers waited on Premier John Hart as he signed up for $7,500,000 in 9th Loan bonds on behalf of the province of B.C.

Full Employment, Export Markets To Be Provided By 'Greatest Loan'

The achievement of full employment in Canada during the years of peace to come will mean the finding of at least 1,000,000 more jobs than there were in 1939, and the finding of this many jobs means the finding of markets for one and a half times prewar production. Hon. J. E. Isley, Minister of Finance, told a meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island in the Empress Hotel Friday evening.

Mr. Isley was in British Columbia to officially open the Ninth Victory Loan campaign, which he dubbed "Canada's Greatest Loan," as he went on to tell the many reasons why all Canadians must support it to the limit of their ability.

J. V. Johnson was chairman of the meeting and Mr. Isley was introduced to the gathering by Mayor Percy George, who welcomed him to the city.

The financing of Canada's expenditures during the coming year of transition from wartime to peacetime economy will take approximately $4,000,000,000 the finance minister told the crowded meeting, and approximately half of this will be met by taxation. The remaining $2,000,000,000 will have to be raised by public borrowing, he declared. "As the Ninth Victory Loan aims to cover borrowing needs for the next 12 months, you can see why we want to exceed the minimum objective of $1,500,000,000 by the largest possible margin and get as close as possible to the estimated overall needs of $2,000,000,000. You can see why Canadians are being asked to continue their present savings program for another year."

FOLLY TO RISK INFLATION
"It would be sheer folly," he continued, "to risk inflation by premature relaxation of taxation and other measures we have employed throughout the war to ward off inflation . . . and it would be equally disastrous to persist with these measures and controls when inflationary dangers have disappeared."

"To lay workable plans for high employment and incomes in the days to come, we must be prepared to follow sensible financial policies during this period of upset and dislocation which is an unavoidable part of the transition from war to peace."

"It is my intention," the minister declared, "that Canada should have a peacetime tax structure which will serve the needs of the government and, at the same time, play a leading role in the attainment of our peacetime goals of high employment, improved welfare, and increased security."

"It is our aim," he stated, "to bring about the maximum of employment through expanded export markets, increased consumption at home, and new private investment and the minimum through public spending."

Outlining a bold policy, he said: "I believe the government must deliberately plan for these conditions in order to give the economy a stimulus whenever depression threatens. On the other hand I think government must also plan for substantial revenues and debt retirement in periods of high business activity. We must budget for a cycle rather than for any one fiscal year."

LEVEL PEAKS AND VALLEYS
"Government spending and tax policies throughout the cycle must aim to level out the peaks and valleys. Under present-day conditions the governmental budget must be the balance-

B.C.'s Victory Bonds

British Columbia has invested $500,000 in the 9th Victory Loan, bringing the provincial government's total holdings of Victory Bonds for sinking funds, various trust accounts and Workmen's Compensation Board funds to almost $70,000,000.

Announcing the investment today, Premier John Hart called on all citizens to do their utmost to invest all available funds in the 9th Victory Loan which is needed badly by the Dominion not only to meet expenditures already incurred in connection with the war, which is now ended, but also to take care of the future needs of the country during the reconstruction period.

Victoria Salutes Return of Robert

H.M.C.S. Prince Robert came home today. The ship's crew lined the main deck and Canadian and British repatriates from Jap prison camps lined the upper deck as a navy band blared a welcome to the returning ship in Esquimalt harbor.

Rank upon rank, seamen of ships based here stood at attention as whistles, horns and sirens blasted through the harbor air to herald the return of Victoria's prize warship Robert.

"Welcome home," was the greeting signaled at dawn today from the bridge of the frigate Matane which carried a press party out to board the Robert beyond Otter Point.

Long before 9.30 when Prince Robert warped to the dockside at H.M.C.S. Givenchy a big crowd had gathered on the jetty to welcome the 485 crew members, many of whom hail from Victoria and the island. First to go aboard was Mayor Percy George, who welcomed Capt. Wallace Creery, commanding officer of the ship, and his crew. He was followed by Capt. C. D. Donald, N.O.L.C. Esquimalt, and Mrs. Donald and Cmdr. T. G. Fuller of H.M.C.S. Naden.

Shouted welcomes of wives, mothers and girl friends sounded above the music of the Esquimalt Navy Band playing the Col. Bogey March. Cries of "Here I am," "Hey, George," and "How was Hongkong?" came from the crowd held back from the jetty's edge by heavy ropes pulled taut by shore patrol members.

The Robert carried 27 Canadian servicemen, all but four members of the Royal Rifles of Canada or the Winnipeg Grenadiers, and 15 Roman Catholic missionaries.

CPO. D. McCulloch of Edmonton, who was with the Robert when she took part in the liberation

This Jap ensign brought to Victoria today by PO. Paul Bouchard, second from right, standing, bears the name of the men aboard Prince Robert who made up the first landing party at Kowloon. tion of Hongkong, said he had found the repatriates anxious to get home. However, he added, they showed little sign of it.

Repatriates Excited But Calm

The repatriates found it hard to believe they were on their way home. "They don't seem to realize it," he said.

He had seen men getting more excited coming in from sea after seven days than the repats seemed, he said.

The arrival at Hongkong and later, Kowloon, on the mainland, was a highlight for the Robert's crew.

One petty officer of the Robert's crew, PO. K. Lewendon, Vancouver, said he and a number of others made their way to the Jap-held areas with the intention of getting souvenirs, including Samurai swords.

On the mainland they made their way past the main prisoner camp, past a deserted cave where they found the decomposed body of a beheaded Chinese woman, and, finally, on to another Jap prison camp.

Observing the warnings of other servicemen to watch the Japanese guards who were still shooting at the landing forces, they reached the camp.

The petty officer continued with his story. He found a guard, he said, who was wearing a shiny pair of leather boots... he held a knife against the Jap's body. As he told the story, the petty officer drew up his pant leg to display a shiny boot. He had won the boots from the Jap. The expedition also came back with 64 swords.

CPO. McCulloch of Edmonton made his way to camp Shamshupo in a cave previously owned by a Japanese, Col. Tokinaga, commanding officer of all prisoners of war camps in China.

Once there, CPO. McCulloch issued an invitation to all Canadians he could see.

"They were really happy to see us," the seamen said. "About 200 came aboard."

READY, WILLING AND ABLE

IT WILL BE INTERESTING TO NOTE the effect of current city tax collections on members of the City Council who, in recent years, fought to cut the mill rate. At the beginning of this week over 91 per cent of the current levy had been paid by property owners, a figure which establishes a new record for the year to date and promises to exceed any in history by the end of December. And this achievement has been made, be it noted, in face of a five mill increase. In other words, Victorians have proved the merit of the argument that the time to boost taxes is when the citizens have the money to pay. That has been obvious, of course, but it has run counter to the ideas of those who thought the only entry to the City Council or maintenance of a seat on that body has been through the promise of cutting the rate.

It is impossible, now, to collect the additional revenue that was available and needed during the preceding years of war-created high income. But it might be well to note that several costly civic projects are pending in the not distant future—water works improvement for one. Had the councils of other years availed themselves of legislation which permits them to create funds for special purposes, and raised the tax rate accordingly, the city might have established a very comfortable beginning on a fund to meet those requirements. That, however, is water over the dam.

Nevertheless, the projects, and they are known at the City Hall, still have to be undertaken. There is scant likelihood that senior governments will adopt a paternalistic attitude which will relieve municipalities of their own responsibilities if the same municipalities display an unwillingness to assume part of the load themselves. That is a point which the aldermen and councils, of surrounding districts might well keep in mind. It is a matter, too, which should exercise the minds of the electors when they go to the polls less than two months hence to decide who shall conduct the civic administration for the succeeding 12 months. And the honest aspirant for office will lose no opportunity of telling the public that Victoria's progress will be determined to a very great extent by the amount of money the city collects to finance projects of greater or lesser urgency. It will be sheer dishonesty to promise major post-war undertakings of a purely civic nature and at the same time make pledges for a lower tax rate. The citizens cannot have it both ways, and they know it.

That does not detract one tittle from the satisfaction Victorians should feel over the present collection rate. They have responded to a call for more funds as loyal citizens should. And they have the good sense to know that the service improvements and new developments they want can only come from a continuation of that policy. There should be little vote bait in any promise to cut the rate in this year's appeal to the electors.

THEY KNOW THE SCORE NOW

MANY WHO HAVE FOLLOWED THE political moves on the continental European map since the birth of the National Socialist Party in Munich more than two decades ago may be wondering how or if the top two dozen Nazi thugs will be segregated according to their special crimes. One glance at their pictures will remind the student of German history between the two wars that the total collection lends itself to division according to the nature of their individual or group offences against human decency and the peace of the world.

Ley and Streicher are two creatures whose bestiality surely rate the sternest possible punishment; quick removal from the land of the living seems much too easy for them. For sheer duplicity and the vilest kind of intrigue, apart from their roles in the more sordid acts of the Hitlerian drama, von Papen, Seyss-Inquart and von Ribbentrop fall into a category of diplomatic rascality unparalleled in modern history. As blind devotees of the Fuehrer and all his pernicious works, of course, the absent Bormann, the braggart Goering, the maniacal Hess and the sinister Rosenberg are in a class by themselves; they epitomize black hero-worship. In the realm of the old and new German economic statecraft, coupled with war-mongering industry, such men as Schacht, Funk and Krupp should stand in the dock side by side and learn the free world's verdict on international skulduggery in commerce and finance. "Super-race" militarists, like Keitel and Jodl, supposedly naval miracle workers such as Raeder and Doenitz and their ilk, may plead "orders from on high" and try to get away with it; but the record should take care of them.

What the eminent jurists who will conduct these trials will strive to maintain, however, is the administration of justice in accordance with the requirements of jurisprudence as understood and respected by the civilized world. The spectacle which marked Laval's trial will be avoided at all costs. Nor need the peoples of the United Nations fear that mawkish sentimentality will actuate the members of the Allied tribunal. But a few on the list to whom the general indictment has been presented have so much for which to answer that public opinion will demand that their punishment shall really fit their crimes.

OFF THE BEAM

SMALL WONDER SOME SUPPORTERS of the Socialist Party are asking what candidate Murray Bryce meant when he said the other night that the government had deliberately made up the voters' list "in a manner designed to reduce the number eligible to vote." Not even the most implacable disciple of the "planned economy" gospel will challenge the obvious fact that those electors who did not vote in the provincial general election in 1941 were required to register to win the right to cast a ballot next Thursday. And all such potential voters had ample instructions on what to do and plenty of time in which to comply with the requirements.

If the procedure was not simple enough for everybody to understand, if the organizational machine of the C.C.F. Party was not fully aware of all the circumstances, how was it that Socialist workers in this and all the other communities of the province applied themselves assiduously to the task of getting every missing name on the voters' list within the prescribed period? Hundreds of Coalition-supporting families will bear witness to the house-to-house calls of third party canvassers.

Naturally candidate Bryce—like his colleagues elsewhere—is growingly apprehensive of the outcome next Thursday. But that is no reason why he should assume that a great majority of the people of Victoria are a pack of fools. And how does this young man square his wild assertion with the official fact that the provincial electoral roll now contains 58,980 more names than it did in 1941?

HOUSING AND HUMANITY

IF THE CLAIMS OF HUMANITY EVER required emphasis in Victoria, they are most definitely stressed by the situation confronting many of the 675 service families in urgent need of housing here. Shortage of material and skilled labor is an impediment which has retarded remedial new construction generally throughout Canada, and this city is no exception. But, as it has been pointed out by housing authorities, there are many dwellings here, in addition to those not in use, which would lend themselves to conversion into multiple family accommodation and provide self-contained living units for those who rendered such gallant service in the war.

It is obvious, of course, that owners of such structures are not all withholding them from tenancy merely to secure a more advantageous financial return through sale or long-term lease. But if they are in a position to ignore the income inducement that subdivision and rental offers, they might also consider the question from the human side. There should be no inclination to forget the sacrifices those in the forces were prepared to make in order to protect for their owners the living accommodation which now stands empty.

CREDIT FOR VICTORY

AS HAS HAPPENED INEVITABLY after every war, various candidates are being put forward now as those to whom chief credit is due for victory in the global struggle ended so recently.

Many have mentioned the atomic bomb as having "won the war." From Britain came a statement the other day that radar was the decisive weapon. Others insist that to the airplane is due chief credit for victory. The Army and the Navy each has its many supporters.

No one could have any desire to belittle in any way the importance of each of these factors. Certainly the atomic bomb hastened victory, probably by many months, thus saving countless lives. Radar obviously enabled Britain to hold the fort while strength was being gathered and organized for the drive to victory. Comment on the importance of the air arm would be superfluous. Victory could not have been gained without the armies and the navies.

Of course, it is somewhat absurd to put forward the claim that this or that force or weapon won the war. Victory was gained because innumerable elements on the battle and home fronts were welded into an irresistible force. But if any one of these elements is to be singled out as having been most important, the man in the ranks cannot be denied a place at the head of the parade.

SOIL

AFTER THE LABORS OF THE GROWING season, the soil turns black and rich-seeming to the spade as the gardener prepares it for winter's fallow. Fresh dug, it is revealed in its warm fecundity, the dark stuff in which seeds germinated, from which tiny roots took the nutriment to send stems pushing through the surface, brought leaves unfolding in the warming sun, nurtured the substance of the plant and furnished nourishment for the complete cycle ending in the new seed.

Now, cleared of the debris of harvest, a few late greens only standing sentinel, it is made ready for rest and refreshment. Under the surface may lie the seeds of enriching vetch or wheat, to be dug in when the green shoots herald early spring. And with them may mingle the bulk of disintegrating leaves and other matter which the mysterious chemistry of nature will transform into plant food. But in the new tidiness of recent digging, the soil looks rich and productive, a disciplined element which will yield its sure return, an infinite contrast to the tortured earth of other lands.

THANK YOU, MR. DOUGLAS

MIGHTY HANDSOME, I call it, for Mr. Tommy Douglas to come out to British Columbia and tell us how to govern ourselves. Mr. Douglas is Premier of Saskatchewan and hence knows all about British Columbia. He was raised as a preacher, a parliamentarian and a deep student of agriculture on the prairies. This equips him to tell us how to run our lumber, mineral, fish and fruit industries. He also has taken over a brick plant, and started a woolen mill and a fish filleting factory and other enterprises of minor size, and with highly questionable results, and this has prepared him to deal with the huge and complex structure of British Columbia industry. Moreover, he is a Socialist and, like all Socialists, can solve any problem merely by making the state the owner of all productive processes.

I think, therefore, we owe a vote of thanks to Mr. Douglas for taking time off from his duties in Saskatchewan to come here in our election campaign and explain our problems and their solution to us, without charge. We should be equally grateful to Mr. Winch for importing this expert advice purely as a matter of public service.

IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT, in common neighborhood and goodwill the experienced dirt farmer, Mr. Winch, will return shortly to Saskatchewan and explain to Mr. Douglas how to grow wheat and sell it. By such a process of exchange, by letting the dirt farmers advise the industrialists and the industrialists manage the farms, we shall shortly erect in Canada a really efficient country in which every man will do the job for which he is least equipped.

Not long ago Mr. Douglas generously took himself and his cabinet down to Manitoba to tell the benighted natives there what was wrong with them and, boiled down, with the wisecracks eliminated, his doctrine is this: We provided a boom during the war, we can do it in the peace. This, I suppose, is what Mr. Douglas is coming to tell in British Columbia.

It sounds easy until you begin to think about it, and Mr. Douglas, by smothering us with free entertainment, will do his best to prevent us from thinking about it. However, before he begins to spread his bewitching magic here, we might consider his proposition on its merits.

WE DID IT IN WAR, YES. And how? We did it by four distinct methods. We gave our goods away to our Allies. We let the federal government buy up everything in the country and create a market for all products. We financed all this cost by huge taxes and by huge borrowings. We placed all power, provincial and federal, in Ottawa and allowed it to regulate our wages, prices and living conditions.

If we are willing to continue all these processes doubtless we can do it in peace as we did it in war. But are we willing? Are we willing to give our goods away forever? Are we willing to pay anything like our wartime taxes? Are we willing to buy Victory Bonds to the amount of about $3,000,000 a year, knowing that if this goes on indefinitely, the bonds will have no value? Are we willing to let the federal government regulate our prices, wages and lives and permanently abolish the power of the provinces?

I DOUBT VERY much that we are willing to do these things. Yet we would have to do them before Mr. Douglas could work his Socialist miracle in the nation. We would, in fact, be compelled to submit to a degree of regulation and control beside which the controls of wartime would appear mild and amateur.

But Mr. Douglas does not tell us that. A born salesman, he delights us with a witticism and then asks us to sign a blank cheque. He comes all the way from the hog-raising areas of Saskatchewan to bring us a pig in a poke.

This is not to say that we cannot have good times after the war if we use our heads and think things through. It is only that it is misleading and dishonest to tell the people that the thing is simple, and that because we did it in war, when everyone worked together for a common purpose and accepted any regulation and sacrifice, we can do it in peace under entirely different conditions, legal, political and spiritual.

SOCIALIZATION

From the Labor Leader, Toronto

Of course, all the unrest in the ranks of labor is not spontaneous. Much of it is being stimulated by the protagonists of socialization. These agitators are right in their element in times like the present, and tragically enough, with the world in its present chaotic state, it is not impossible that their plans may bear fruit. If they do, then the trade union movement can kiss itself goodbye. Then the 100-year-old dream of a "planned economy" will become a reality and with it will come the "police state" in full measure. And then, when liberty is finally interred, you will be cordially invited to attend the funeral.

"Now British troops are not very used to elephants. So one way I got them used to the idea was to run demonstrations, and one day I heard some of my British troops roaring with laughter. The colonel running the elephant demonstrations for me had the beasts all decked out and painted for the occasion. On their foreheads were the R.A.S.C. colors painted red and green just as on a lorry; on one knee was the regulation yellow disc with a black black 14, meaning the vehicles weight of 14 tons over bridges; and, what amused the troops most, on the ramp, near side, was painted in white: 'Left hand steering—No Signals.'—Maj.-Gen. 'Pete' Rees telling B.B.C. overseas listeners about 'The Burma Campaign.'

Letters To The Editor

DISBURRING SIGNS

The news from Dutch East Indies of public uprisings and the beheading of seven natives is rather distressing, as the beginnings of world peace, after such a terrible war.

It is like serving a notice to the nations that the same policies which were general before the war cannot be taken up again as per usual, as if no war had taken place and no changes are necessary. It also reveals the fact that the standards of civilization and education of the masses in all those backward peoples of Africa and Asia and the Pacific territories, are just as low as ever, and constitute the most serious future menace to universal peace, the more so as religious ideas and bigotry are untouched by any new order of higher education or public opinion changes, which might bring better understanding between the many races of humans and nations.

Unless some very different attitudes are to replace the old prejudices, and the old religions, we are heading for a worse world war than the one just closing, because the underlying causes of war are being deliberately shunned by our leaders, evidently afraid to face them squarely and honestly.

As the population of the globe increases it is noticeable that the proportion of the white and civilized peoples decrease out of all proportion with the rapid increase of colored people. So we are losing the weight and power of a majority leading of the nations which works against us with every generation.

Religious liberty is fine sentiment, but it is not a remedy, or an advance towards international peace and goodwill—it has been tried and fails to meet the menace before us.

This is the root cause of most wars, and it will operate again unless we find the remedy.

"It is with a great deal of satisfaction that I note so many editors have begun a really active campaign against vivisection... For many years humanitarians have actively fought against the brutality of such a practice... The torture of animals is but a step toward the torture of mankind... Can we afford to let these cruel, sadistic vivisectionists continue without restraint? If vivisection ever did serve a useful purpose (which I, as a physician, cannot believe) that usefulness has long ceased to exist. Torturing helpless animals upon the altar of research is decidedly vicious and brutal sadism... The fight against vivisection has been of many years duration and will continue until it is totally eradicated throughout the nation..."

Imposing Cast In York Film

Every one of the 48 states is represented in the cast of David O. Selznick's grand new drama of the home front, "Since You Went Away," playing at the York Theatre Monday through United Artists' release. And that broad representation is exactly as should be, for Selznick's film is the first serious attempt by a movie-maker to picture the dynamic sweep of contemporary America.

Selznick's casting aides made no special attempt to get the geographical representation, it just developed with the assembled film company of seven stars, a score of featured players and some 5,000 bit parts.

Greer Carson, Peck In Capitol Showing

Gregory Peck's wardrobe for "The Valley of Decision," in which he is co-starred with Greer Carson at the Capitol Theatre on Monday, sets a near-record for M-G-M productions.

Peck has 21 suits, 17 ties, 17 hats and caps and five overcoats for his role as Paul Scott, Pittsburgh steel maker. This record has been exceeded at M-G-M only by Robert Morley's wardrobe for "Marie Antoinette." As Louis XVI, Morley wore 28 different costumes.

Peck's costume changes out-number those of Greer Carson, who stars as Mary Rafferty, servant for the Scotts, in "The Valley of Decision." Miss Carson has only 15 wardrobe changes. In the recently completed "Mrs. Parkington," however, Miss Carson wore 33 colorful costumes.

Tonight hear all Greater Victoria C.C.F. candidates, C.J.V. 6:30; Harold Finch and M. J. Coldwell, C.B.R. 8 p.m.

Deanna Durbin Stars In Mystery Show

Due to the nature of the story, the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres are urging all of their patrons to be sure to see Deanna Durbin's new Universal comedy-mystery, "Lady on a Train," from the very beginning. The picture opens Monday at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

This film is a complete departure for Miss Durbin, bringing her to the screen for the first time as an amateur detective in a surprising story which casts a shadow of suspicion upon virtually every other member of the cast.

Heading the imposing list of supporting players in the picture are Ralph Bellamy, David Bruce, George Coulouris, Allen Jenkins, Dan Duryea, Edward Everett Horton, Patricia Morrison, Elizabeth Patterson, Maria Palmer and Jacqueline de Wit.

"Enchanted Cottage" At Atlas Monday

The regeneration of two persons embittered by the world's treatment of them is brilliantly told in "The Enchanted Cottage," RKO Radio's new dramatic romance, which comes to the Atlas Theatre Monday.

Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Herbert Marshall have the starring roles in the film, which has most of its action in and around an isolated cottage on the New England coast. John Cromwell directed this screen version of the Pinero stage success, which was produced by Harriet Parsons, and the supporting cast includes Mildred Natwick, Spring Byington and Richard Gaines.

Midnight Show At Rio Sunday

There's no rationing of entertainment on the 20th Century-Fox lot! And when "Take It or Leave It" opens Sunday midnight at the Rio Theatre, starring the famed quizmaster himself—Phil Baker—moviegoers will thrill to the big surprise musical of all time.

The film is based on the riotous radio laugh-and-quiz show with the $64-question, and, holding this lavish entertainment together with romantic suspense, is the freshest, sweetest love story ever to unfold on the screen. The featured cast of "Take It or Leave It" includes Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massov and Stanley Prager.

DOMINION THEATRE

All the famous thrills, pageantry and intrigue of Alexandre Dumas' immortal novel, "The Companions of Jehu," have now been brought to the screen magnificently in Columbia Pictures' "The Fighting Guardsman," currently at the Dominion Theatre, with Willard Parker playing the title role.

Also in the excellent east-end Anita Louise, lending her exquisite, cameo-like beauty and sincerity to the role of the dashing nobleman's beloved; Janis Carter as a vivacious blonde witch, mistress to the king; John Loder, very much at ease as an Englishman traveling through France on a secret mission; Edgar Buchanan, rotund confederate of the band's chief, and George Macready, properly hot-tempered and surly as the king's aide.

CADET THEATRE

Listeners have long marveled at Larry Adler's ability to draw from a harmonica tones reminiscent of many instruments in a symphony orchestra. On the set of M-G-M's "Music for Millions," in which he is featured with Margaret O'Brien, Jose Iturbi and Jimmy Durante at the Cadet Theatre, the harmonica virtuoso explained his technique.

To achieve a trumpet effect, he stands three feet behind the microphone, opens his hands on the harmonica and blows a sharp, brassy, tone.

Jaroff's Cossacks Here Wednesday

Because he was a little David in a country of Cossack Goliaths, Serge Jaroff found a career. He is the director of the singing plants of the steppes, the Original Don Cossack Chorus who will bring their organ-throated song to the stage of the Royal Victoria on Wednesday evening at 8:30 in the course of their 15th American tour under the managerial aegis of S. Hurok.

Jaroff was born in the Don River Valley of Russia, where men grow very tall. A Cossack under six feet is almost unheard of among the descendants of Stenka Razin who used to lead the hard-riding warriors of the nomad camps centuries ago.

So when the Jaroff family found that little Serge was a head shorter than his gargantuan brothers and apparently determined to stop there, though he could bust a bronco or its Russian equivalent with the biggest of them, they dismissed him as "not of much use." When he talked of studying music they made no objection. They apprenticed him to the local choirmaster.

From there he went on to the Imperial Choral School in St. Petersburg, where his talent attracted the notice of Grand Duchess Marie whose protege he became.

Came World War 1 and the strapping of 17, despite his miniature size, became a lieutenant in the Imperial machine-gun corps. War and revolution took the young Cossack and his soldiers far from their Don Valley home, and over the evening campfires he led their spontaneous singing, eventually welding them into a brilliant ensemble who sang at the Embassy Church and presently became the official choir of the Cathedral of St. Sofia in the Bulgarian capital.

British Columbia members of the 6th Field Company, Canadian Engineers, in the First World War, will gather at a reunion Nov. 3 in the Devonshire Hotel, Vancouver. The reunion will be in the form of a banquet and will take place at the same time as the unit's annual reunion in Montreal.

Premier Outlines B.C.'s Role For Next Dominion Conference

British Columbia's role at the Dominion-Provincial Conference to be reconvened next month in Ottawa, will be to maintain the province's high standard of social services and to assist to raise the standards of other provinces to that level, Premier John Hart said Friday night.

Speaking in support of Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., Coalition candidate in Saanich, the Premier told a meeting at St. Mark's Hall, his government had promised to co-operate with the Dominion, but would not sacrifice B.C.'s standards. Mr. Hart is a candidate in Victoria.

Mrs. F. Paterson presided. The Premier said the government now was studying the proposals submitted by the federal government to the conference. He described the forthcoming meeting as one of the big problems facing Canada and each province.

WANTS WHITTAKER BACK

Mr. Hart described Mr. Whittaker, who has been Speaker of the last two Legislatures, as "very modest—modest in his actions, modest in his accomplishments for his district. In his modest way he had been able to accomplish some things others could not in a noisy way," he said.

"Norman Whittaker," he continued, "is the type of man we like to have in the House. I am most desirous that you send him back to the Legislature."

The Premier described the Oct. 25 election issue as a gamble in socialism or a humanitarian, businesslike administration.

When he took over the Premiership, he said, some had believed that it was impossible to conduct the affairs of government without them being permeated with politics.

"The affairs of government are administered," he said, "just as though I went to my own office. There are no politics in the affairs of the government."

T.B. ASSISTANCE

British Columbians suffering from tuberculosis, he said, received the most generous allowance in Canada. He said it was necessary for the breadwinner of a family to be free of worry to recover from the disease, and for that reason the provincial government in many instances paid to him an amount equal to his normal earnings.

As well as this allowance, the head of a family suffering from tuberculosis also received free medical attention.

"That is the work of the Coalition government," he said, "and we have in this province

Bryce Charges Mail Discrimination

Murray Bryce, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, told a meeting Friday night the C.C.F. was being discriminated against in Victoria by the post office.

"Upon receiving information that the post office in Vancouver had granted reduced rates for bulk mailing of election literature, the Victoria C.C.F. applied for a similar rate for the Victoria area," he said. "This request was refused by the postal authorities who stated the reduced rates only applied to Vancouver. This is a repetition of the experience in the federal election where a special mailing rate for Vancouver was obtained apparently at the request of the Liberal Party then refused for Victoria when the application was made by the C.C.F."

"You cannot count on the coalition," said Mrs. May Campbell, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria. "Look at their record with the provincial health insurance bill. After passing the health insurance bill in 1936, they conducted a plebiscite in 1937 to make sure the people really wanted health insurance. This was emphatically endorsed by the electorate and we still have not received provincial health insurance."

"The main issue in this election is jobs," said Fred J. Bevis, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria. "Already the government has recognized that there are not two jobs for every worker, nor even one job per worker, and are planning to build roads to put the unemployed to work."

Breaking School Windows Serious

Vandalism in the city schools has reached alarming proportions this year, T. L. Christie, secretary of the school board, declared this morning, with $825 worth of windows having been broken up to the end of September.

In previous years less than $500 worth of damage has been done during the whole year he said, but he anticipates that the bill for windows will be well over the $1,000 mark this year.

School principals are convinced that it is not school children, but deliberate vandalism of older boys.

The worst damage is done at week-ends, Mr. Christie said, when as many as 30 windows have been broken. Central Junior High suffers most from the vandalism.

Ford Strikers Coming

Representative of the striking automobile workers in Windsor, Ont., will arrive in British Columbia shortly for a speaking tour of provincial points, Harold Pritchett, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor (C.C.L.) announced in Vancouver.

Victoria C.C.L. unions expect the representatives will speak here.

Make it a date Monday at 8. Big Coalition rally at Crystal Garden. Able speakers, important messages.

Bird Thought Stork Taps on House Roof

A "terrible noise" on the roof of her home Friday night was believed today by Mrs. C. H. Gray, Cedar Hill Road, to have been caused by the same bird she had seen earlier Friday and which she believed was a stork.

Mrs. Gray admitted she had never seen a stork before and the fowl which flew over her house Friday might have been a heron. She said the bird was white-blue-grey.

The bird flew over her home and then landed in the garden of a neighbor, consuming all his goldfish, including two large ones.

When chased by a dog the bird flew into an oak tree.

BOASTING a double-barrelled objective a new order for athletic competition has been instituted at the Victoria High School. Chating to vice-principal Claude Campbell who is acting in a position of supervisory control of athletics at the institution he outlined the new policy. Promising young athletes at the school are now confined to certain sports in which they may represent the school. A youngster can play for the high school representative rugby and basketball squads but he cannot play on both the rugby and soccer school teams.

MAIN OBJECT of the new ruling is to prevent a young athlete from taking part in two many sport competitions. It will tend to take the pressure off a growing youth whose physical well-being can be damaged by too heavy an athletic program. Secondly, it prevents a group of all-star athletes from monopolizing the field. "The honor of representing the school in sport competition is one every student cherishes and we want to give the opportunity to as many youngsters as possible," Campbell said. "As you know a great many of the athletes at our school participate in sport outside, often being in great demand by teams competing in city and intercity competition with the result they face a stiff schedule and we feel it is good policy to regulate their activities at school to some extent."

CAMPBELL went on to tell me about a new system of house competition now in operation at the school. "Just because a boy cannot play on the representative rugby squad it does not mean he is kept out of the rugby as it is quite all right for him to turn out and play the game with his house team," he said. "These house leagues give every student an opportunity to engage in some kind of sport activity. With greater numbers participating it means more students are becoming sport conscious and should result in our producing a greater number of athletes."

THIS SYSTEM of placing a restriction on school athletes certainly meets with the approval of the writer. Too often a young athlete of outstanding ability has been spoiled through sport over-emphasis. Only last year I had to listen to a strong complaint from a parent who told me how his young boy was always tired out and lacked his usual pep, just because he was being called on to play too much sport. Now if the coaches of basketball, rugby and football teams adopt the same attitude as the high school authorities another step will be taken to curb the activities of the young athletes. The lads themselves will never call a halt. They are keen and figure they can keep going all the time without realizing just what serious damage can result.

Hunting and Angling

By "CAP" THORSEN

Returning to the city after an absence of more than four years, and mingling again with old acquaintances of the outdoor world, I find the fishing front holding down the feature spot in this mid-October week, with the spotlight focused on coho-producing Cowichan Bay.

Coho have been in the bay in great strength all week. Many good catches were made. Bucktail flies were the most popular with the fish, with small plugs also luring well. Harry Woolston phoned in Thursday to report: "I've just heard that with the rain the fish came into Cowichan Bay in droves. It's literally boiling with fish," he said. Woolston collected four coho on Wednesday, including a 15½ pounder, which won him a gold button.

COWICHAN CATCHES

On Wednesday, H. H. "Peg" Pegler and Jack Harris got a basket of 10 at the bay, weight ranging from eight to 13 pounds. Also successful that day were W. Beveridge and Will Christopher, fishing together. Other bay Wednesday catches included six by George Dunn and friend. Cowichan Bay's Ken Rood reported that the Boeing party from Seattle, complete with yacht, was back at the bay. He also told about several successful and satisfied visitors. Such as E. Whellames, North Vancouver, who marked up a tally of 53 coho during his month's visit; Drs. McMann and Duncan from Seattle reeled in 31 coho in six days.

Saanich Inlet is still offering some good sport. Springs, some coho and grise make up the baskets. Angling team of Dan Thomas and George Bridges, with 14-year-old Laurie Smith tagging along, took two English salmon repats from the Far East out on the inlet last Sunday. Repats were Frank Lawrence, Sittingbourne, Kent, and Thomas Moore, Middlesbrough. "Great time we ever had," they declared, for they were allowed to play with the rods, and reeled in six springs and two grise. Young Smith, jockeying for cod, pulled in 14. A newcomer to me in the association, Ed. Duffin, added another coho to his already impressive 1945 salmon catch total in the inlet. Jack Saunders reeled in a pair of coho and two jacksprings this week at Brentwood.

HUNTING
Rain that started Thursday put joy in the hearts of many a hunter for continuous dry weather had made the woods too dry and noisy for successful hunting. From all accounts there are plenty of bucks in lower island woods.

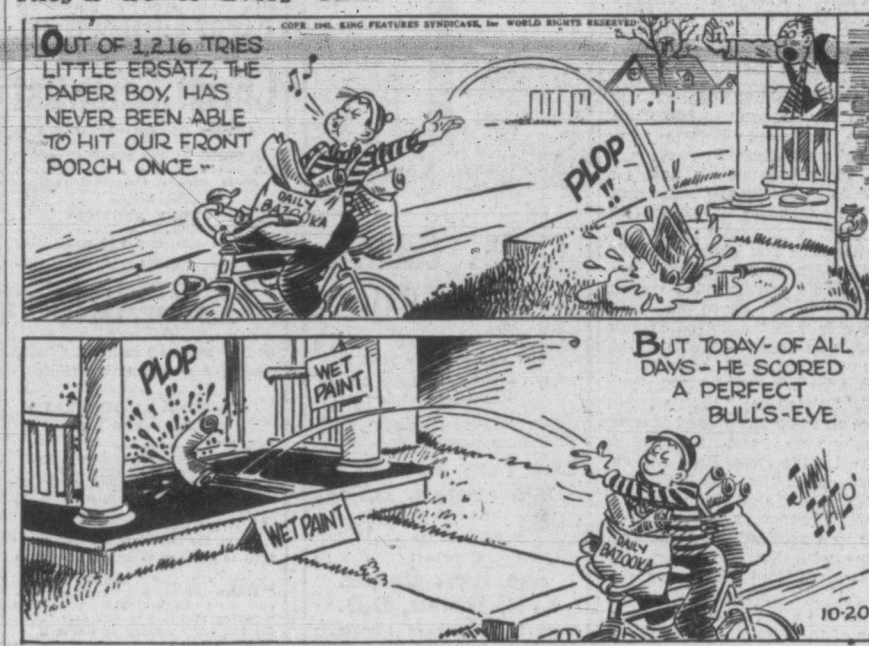

Colder weather up north is another hope of the hunting fraternity. For this would start the annual migration of the water fowl south. To date bags are averaging pretty slim, but there are several who can claim limits on the opening day, last Saturday. Jim Girdwood was one of these, his bag composed chiefly of widgeon and pintail.

Pheasant shooting is reported patchy. It is rather late for blue grouse, but even the willows are scarce.

To date 14 entries have been weighed-in in the Sylvester U-Drive Vancouver Island Buck Deer competition. The following have weighed in antlered specimens: Sgt. Tommy Banister of Victoria city police; J. Olson, F. Olson, H. Becroft, J. Corner, W. Parker, Les Clark, G. Harper, S. Rickinson, G. Colliard, G. Haslam, G. Grossman, W. Cross. Jim Haslam and Ted Bailey besides

No Solid Choice for Major Hockey Honors

TORONTO (CP)—From a mixture of returning servicemen, rookies and regulars, National Hockey League teams in training camps have a postwar season "coming up with some of the boarding house qualities of hash so far as quality of starting ingredients is concerned."

Normally, Toronto Maple Leafs as Stanley Cup winners and Montreal Canadiens as defending league champions would be the teams to beat. But with rosters sprinkled liberally with new talent and players making a postwar comeback—the relative strength is uncertain.

For instance, Boston Bruins who could do no better than fourth last season, will have the old kraut line of Bobby Bauer, Porky Dumart and Milt Schmidt back after service in the R.C.A.F. New York Rangers, who sank to the bottom during the latter years of wartime play, will have ex-service stars back as will Chicago Black Hawks. So far, Detroit Red Wings have shown little change from the team that finished second last season, but manager Jack Adams had some 60 candidates from which to brew a contender.

Leafs have an abundance of players from which to select a starting team, and coach Dick Irvin has already gone on record as saying he is "force to admit the superiority" of his Canadians.

LEAFS LOOK STRONG

Leafs hope for release of centre star Syl Apps from the Canadian army before long. But discounting his return, they still have such stalwarts as Billy Taylor, Gus Bonar, Pete Langelle and Ted Kennedy as centre candidates. Bob Goldman and Wally Stanowski, who played part of last season, are expected to bolster the defence with Gaye Stewart, another ex-service man, expected to fit right back in at left wing.

Dick Irvin, with his regular Montreal defence of last season, has Mike McMahon, Cliff Goupile and Wilf Field from which having individual entries also have a joint entry.

Minor Hockey Group Will Operate Again

With over 60 youngsters in attendance the annual meeting of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association was held Friday night. Despite the fact the boys will still have no home ice surface it was decided to enter teams in the B.C. juvenile and midget playoffs.

The clubs will hold regular training sessions at Nanaimo with the boys bearing their own expenses up until the playoffs. If arrangements can be made the first practice will be held Sunday, Nov. 4, at Nanaimo.

Coach Ivan Temple reported good prospects for both the juvenile and midget clubs. Last season the juveniles won the Pacific Coast championship.

The meeting observed a minute's silence in respect to the memory of the late John Fox, a former coach of the association.

Soccer Youngsters Hear Jimmy Hall

A large group of youngsters attended the fourth meeting of the juvenile soccer school at the Eagles Hall, View Street, last night when Jimmy Hall, veteran footballer, gave an interesting talk on positional play and answered numerous questions from his youthful audience. Ted Carey, vice-president of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association, introduced the speaker. The fifth session will be held at the Eagles Hall next Friday.

K.V.'S PRACTICE

Cagers Commence Play

Basketballers will formally usher in their season tonight at the Victoria High School gym with three Victoria and District League games scheduled.

The draw follows:
7.00—Rookies vs. Hudson's Bay, women's league.
8.00—St. Louis' College vs. Chinese Students, intermediate B boys.
9.00—Black and Whites vs. Eagles, senior B men.

League play will be officially opened by C. N. Chubb, manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, who will toss up the ball to start the women's engagement.

With a view to helping players, referees and fans league officials reminded today that several important changes have been made in the rules for this season's play.

The new rules follow:
When a goal is canceled because of an illegal play, the ball is to be awarded to the opponents, out of bounds, on the side instead of the end. This applies to illegal plays for which the penalty is loss of the ball.

Leaving the jumping circle before the ball is tapped will be a violation instead of a technical foul.

Rule 6, sec. 6 (b) will be changed to read: "Player in control of the ball in his front court shall not cause it to go to his back court."

Rule 9, sec. 8, the words "or within" are to be deleted. The penalty is to be changed to an out of bounds award to opponents at the side of the court.

If a player is withdrawn from the game during the last four minutes he may not be returned during that period. In case of a tie, he may return for the extra period, but if he is withdrawn during an extra period he may not return during that extra period.

On an out of bounds award, it will be emphasized that the official must designate a nearby player to put the ball into play and the designated player must put it in play.

Shortage of Medicine In Hongkong Tragic

Lack of medicine, lack of instruments, all of which had to be smuggled in, or brought in through threats to the Japanese, was the story told today by Prof. K. H. Digby, O.B.E., who spent the whole of the war against the Japanese in internment near Hongkong.

Dr. Digby, who arrived aboard H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, was professor of surgery at Hongkong University until the Japanese captured the island. His seat at the university was one of three seats provided there by the Rockefeller Foundation. The other two were medicine and obstetrics and gynaecology.

Of the treatment on board the Robert, Professor Digby had to say "everyone on board has treated us with extraordinary kindness. Their hospitality has changed our whole outlook since we left prison camp. We are happy again."

"It is almost complete compensation for our captivity to meet with such kindness," he concluded.

During the fighting period before the fall of Hongkong, Dr. Digby, with 14 assistants including Chinese, Indians and Portuguese surgeons, operated on some 1,200 persons suffering severe wounds. The casualties treated during that period were made up of approximately 800 Chinese civilians and 400 soldiers, including Canadians.

Before the fall of the Far East city, Dr. Digby was chief surgeon at Queen Mary Hospital, which held 500 beds. When the city fell, the wounded were evacuated, the doctor said.

CRUELTY TO PATIENTS
The Japanese treated the patients with great cruelty, he said, putting the sick in trucks for transportation to another point.

He had seen men with compound fractures taken down from their beds and loaded on the trucks with nothing to protect the shattered bones, he said. "All we could do was give them morphine," the doctor said.

The excuse offered by the Japs, who gave the hospital only some 12 to 24 hours to evacuate, was that they needed the hospital space for their own wounded. However, the Japanese did not use the evacuated hospital for some weeks.

Louis Armstrong and His World-famous Orchestra of 18 top musicians of United States will appear at the Sirocco next Wednesday, Oct. 24, for a one-night engagement. Along with Armstrong is the famous Velma Middleton, the heaviest feminine vocalist next to Kate Smith, who sings the blues out of this world. Louis Armstrong takes his band on a European tour on completion of this tour, where he was the toast of the continent prior to the war. The management recommend making your reservations early, as this is the outstanding event of the year.

How the Japs Did It
As H.M.C.S. Prince Robert neared Victoria today two Victorians kept a crowd of sailors on deck amused with their antics. Cries of "Banzai" and "So Solly" went up as P.O. Herbert Frost knelt below the Jap sword wielded by P.O. Robert Wigmore, wearing Nip uniform. P.O. Wigmore refused to tell where he acquired the teeth. AB. Norman Baker, 1210 Monterey Avenue, and P.O. David Schultz, 245 Menzies Street, perch atop sacks of mail destined for Canadian prisoners of war which remained undelivered by their Jap guards. Canadian sailors discovered the mail in a Hongkong warehouse.

Transport, Power Educational System Unified by Coalition

Unification of British Columbia geographically, educationally and agriculturally is now under way as a result of the plans for present and future of the Coalition government, W. T. Strath, K.C., told a campaign meeting in Victoria West Social Hall Friday night.

"We have a plan for the whole of B.C. which we are now putting into effect," he told his audience as he discussed recommendations of the Perry report, which he said were a blueprint for the future.

Though 10 people, including Mr. Strath and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, both Coalition candidates in the Victoria riding, sat on the Perry commission, recommendations compiled resulted from the gathering of opinions from people throughout the province, Mr. Strath emphasized. The resulting plan he said was the first plan in British Columbia to treat the province as a unit.

"It was obvious to us that transportation had to be available to make B.C. a unit geographically; we recommended that the P.G.E. be finished at both ends, tying in with the C.N.R. and coming into Vancouver."

B.C. has been suffering because industry was not decentralized, he said, but added that industry was impossible without power. The Cameron report aimed at unification of the province's educational system with one of its recommendations calling for reduction of the number of school boards from 600 to 100, Mr. Strath said. He told his audience that B.C. had always been "out in front" with regard to social and labor legislation.

"Young men in our province are not afraid of free enterprise; that is what has made Canada strong. It would be just silly to change government, particularly to change the system," he said as he asked whether there was to be a continuance of the "sound administration of the Coalition government or socialism and the kind of revolution Mr. Winch promises us."

Mrs. H. I. MacKenzie, chairman of the Liberal Women's Forum, spoke of the improvement in welfare services under the Coalition.

"In almost all phases of social and health legislation B.C. has shown leadership to the rest of Canada," she said as she referred particularly to the old age pensions and health services.

Harry Sparks, a member of the Bracken Club, told the audience the people of the province had a lot to lose if the C.C.F. won the election. He discussed the plans of the Coalition government for rural electrification.

Ald. W. H. Davies was chairman.

Week's Building Figure $115,655
The city again led the week's building with permits to the value of $67,690 being issued out of a total of $115,655 for the Greater Victoria area.

Seven of the city permits were for houses, and two for industrial buildings. The others were for minor alterations and repairs. Thirteen permits were issued in Saanchich with a total value of $24,685. Five were for dwellings of a total value of $18,885.

Permits were issued for a five-room $5,200 dwelling on Goward Road; a five-room $5,235 house at 1380 Derby Street; a four-room $4,450 dwelling on Blenkinsop Road; a four-room $3,500 dwelling on Wilkinson Road, and a two-room $500 temporary dwelling at 4020 Saanchich Road.

In Oak Bay one permit was issued for a 24-room apartment building at 2280-2290 Oak Bay Avenue, value $23,000. This includes a three-car garage. The only other permit was repair fire damage, value $280.

No permits were issued in Esquimalt during the week.

Certificates Presented
Mayor Percy George presented certificates to members of District 5, Civil Defence, which held its final meeting Friday night in Quadra Primary School, under chairmanship of T. Cresswell, district warden.

Mayor George thanked members for their loyalty and help, and was accompanied by Ald. J. A. Worthington and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot.

$500 for Strikers From Victoria Union

The National Union of Machinists, Fitters and Helpers, Local 2, has forwarded a cheque for $500 to the Ford Company strikers with a promise of further financial support to follow.

The union went on record of calling on the Dominion government to take control of the Ford plant in the same way it has taken control of the packing house plants.

Recent large layoffs in the Yarrow's shipyards are creating uneasiness in labor circles, and the union has called a mass meeting of all shipyard workers to meet in Bolshakoff Hall Thursday to discuss what action can be taken.

The unemployment situation in Victoria is being soft pedaled by the government officials, the union felt. It is true the unemployed insurance is being paid, but this is not what the workers want. "Full employment with corresponding wages is a vital necessity for all our members," said Robert Noble, business agent for the machinists.

Road Contracts Let

Contracts for three road projects in the Cariboo and Nelson-Creston districts were awarded today by provincial government. Dawson, Wade & Co. Ltd. will do the 14-mile Hall Creek diversion, Nelson-Nelway Highway, for $35,103. The firm also received the contract for two miles of reconstruction on the Arrow Creek section of the Southern Transprovincial Highway near Creston for $38,671.

Coast Construction Co. Ltd. will reconstruct 11 miles of the Cariboo Highway, between Mile 83 and Mile 94, for $86,718.

Lions Net $740 for Community Chest

Lions Club members collected $740 for the Community Chest campaign this year, it was announced at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

In addition, $50 was donated to the K.V.'s Athletic Club for the promotion of club activities. Sigm. Howard Naylor, R.C.C.S. Victory, who recently returned home after liberation from a Japanese prison camp, was a guest at the luncheon.

G. G. Edwardson showed a portion of a film portraying the use of fog investigation dispersal operation in the interests of the 9th Victory Loan. This is the famed "Fido" operation of the R.A.F. for clearing landing fields of fog.

Invest $2 now to win C.C.F. victory. Treasurer, 648 Yates. ***

End FOOT TORTURE

You too can have "happy feet" by using the Zam-Buk treatment regularly. This is all you do. Every night bathe your feet in warm water—dry carefully—then massage Zam-Buk into ankles, insteps, soles and between the toes. The soothing, cooling herbal oils in Zam-Buk sink deep into the tired tissues "pulling out" the pain and tiredness. Don't suffer foot-torture another day. Get a tin of Zam-Buk from your druggist at once. Remember—a little goes a long way.

Use ZAM-BUK Nightly

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EGAD, JASON! AFTER AN ABSENCE FROM HOME I DISLIKE WALKING IN ON MARTHA EMPTY-HANDED! LET'S MULL OVER A FEW IDEAS FOR A GIFT—SOMETHING DEEPLY SIGNIFICANT, IMPRESSIVE, FEMININE, RICH LOOKING, HIGHLY USEFUL AND INEXPENSIVE!

THASS GONNA REQUIRE "HEAVY BRAIN EXERCISE TO DOPE OUT, MUSTAH MAJOR!—THEY ARE TWO CLASSES OF ARTICLES, ONE WHICH COST A MAN TOO MUCH, DE WUTHER WHAT YOU EATS—HOW 'BOUT A NICE, FAT COOKIN' GOOSE?

JASON, YOU'RE INSPIRED!

AROUND HOME

HEY, MOM! DID YOU TAKE MY SLINGSHOT?

GOODNESS! WHAT WOULD I DO WITH A SLINGSHOT?

DO I LOOK LIKE A MAN WHO WOULD GO AROUND TAKING LITTLE GIRLS' SLINGSHOTS?

HOW ABOUT IT, POP?

DOTTY DRIPPLE

TAFFYS ASLEEP CONNIE—AND I DON'T THINK YOU'LL HAVE ANY TROUBLE!

BY THE WAY, MR. DRIPPLE, WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

OH, WE'RE GOING TO A DANCE!

A DANCE? OH, THAT'S SUPER—

MR. AND MRS.

NOW JUST LOOK AT THAT CURTAIN!

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH IT?

THE MATTER? DON'T YOU SEE THAT PLACE WHERE IT'S BEEN DAMNED?

WELL—ER—YES, IF I LOOK CLOSE

WASH TUBS

YES, GENERAL, SURE, YOU'RE FREE TO GO NOW, YOU'RE NOT OUR PRISONER ANY LONGER!

BUT, CAPTAIN, EASY! I SOUGHT HELP FROM YANKS!

THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT IS UNDER ALLIED CONTROL NOW, GENERAL. LATER YOUR PEOPLE WILL DECIDE FOR THEMSELVES WHO WILL RULE THEM. MAYBE YOUR TURN WILL COME THEN!

BOOTS

ARE THE CHARACTERS GONE?

YES!

WELL, THERE'S ONE BRIGHT SIDE! I DIDN'T LIKE THE WAY SOME OF THE FURNITURE WAS ARRANGED! WE GOT IT MOVED AROUND FOR FREE!

BUT OUR BUDGET! OUR BUDGET!

FRECKLES

IF YOU'LL GO THROUGH WITH THE INITIATION, WE'LL DESTROY THOSE SKLONKISH PICTURES WE HAVE!

I'LL DO ANYTHING TO DESTROY THOSE PICTURES! BUT THIS IS ALMOST TOO MUCH!

ALLEY OOP

LOOK! ISN'T THAT OUR BEACH FRIEND, MR. ALLEY—OUT FROM BEHIND THE BRUSH!

IT IS!! HUBBA, HUBBA, TICK, TACK, SLICKED CHICK!

BUT CLIMBING THE GLOOM! COULD BE HE'S NURSING A GREAT SECRET SORROW?

WELL, HERE I AM, BACK AT MY HOUSE... BUT GEEB...

GUESS I'LL JUST SORTA SLIP IN THE BACK WAY!

I HOPE NOBODY'S LOOKING!

OUT OUR WAY

THE WORRY WART

THE WORRY WART

GEE WHITH, MYRTLE! WHY WOULD I TAKE YOUR TUNGSHOT WHEN I'VE GOT ONE OF MY OWN?

THEY DIDN'T ANY OF THEM SAY NO!

THE WORRY WART

I LIKE TO SEE THE OLD FOLKS HAVE A GOOD TIME!

THE WORRY WART

IT'D BE ASKED TO HAVE ANYBODY COME IN AND SEE THAT CURTAIN

YES, BUT THE HOLE IS UP NEAR THE TOP OF THE WINDOW. WHO'D SEE IT?

THE WORRY WART

POW!

THE WORRY WART

WE HAD EVERYTHING WORKED OUT, DOWN TO THE LAST PENNY! NOW—

HOW MANY PAYMENTS DO WE HAVE TO MAKE ON THE FURNITURE?

WHAT, DON'T ANSWER THAT! WHAT DO WE CARE? SO WHAT?

YOU'RE SWELL NOT TO LAUGH AT ME, MONKEY! GOSH, WHAT A DOPE WAS!

ON MONDAY MORNING a great wave of Victory Loan enthusiasm will sweep across Canada. For this time, as we enter the Victory Loan period, the dark shadows of war have melted away; the danger to our loved ones is past. Victory is ours, and the 9th Victory Loan is a Victory Loan indeed. So let us make this loan a loan of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

Although war expenses are being reduced just as rapidly as possible, Canada will require $1,500,000,000 during the next twelve months to pay the unpaid costs of victory. The proceeds of the 9th Victory Loan will be used to help the men and women of our armed services to establish themselves in civilian life, and to provide the special training they need to equip them in their life's work; to pay gratuities, re-establishment credits and pensions; to help heal the wounds and mend the broken bodies of those in hospital; to assist in sweeping the seas clear of mines; to provide co-operation with our allies in freeing liberated lands from famine and disease; to pay our share of the billions spent in developing the atomic bomb; to support our army of occupation.

In this the first loan since victory has been achieved on all battlefronts, you will be happy to do your full share. When the Victory Loan salesman calls, sign your name for victory.

$1,500,000,000 IS NEEDED

Previous loans have supplied funds for war expenses for six months. After the 9th Victory Loan there will not be another Victory Loan for a whole year. Every Victory Loan to date has passed its objective. Let's make this the most successful loan yet.

Market Attracts Selective Support

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market attracted selective support today after an early extension of Friday's late retreat.

A number of steels, rails and specialties converted declines into modest plus marks. Near the close trends were no worse than moderately mixed. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

Hiram Walker registered a sharp retreat of 1½ near midday while Distillers Seagrams was up ¼. Dome Mines gained ¼ and Canadian Pacific was unchanged.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
30 Industrials—185.60, up 0.36
20 Rails—59.79, up 0.15
15 Utilities—35.81, up 0.24

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rye futures prices today rallied in the last half of the session to erase early losses of more than two cents.

In early trading, commission houses selling and offerings from American account found indifferent support. Later, offerings dried up and local buying stimulated a rally. Trading was moderately active.

Final prices were ¼ higher to ½ lower, with October $1.68½, December $1.66½ to $1.66, May $1.65½ and July $1.59½.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures rallied today, influenced by heavy government buying of wheat and reports that Belgium would purchase 1,400,000 bushels of oats in the open market.

Wheat was up around a cent a bushel and oats more than a cent at times. Rye showed less strength most of the session and gains were small.

Following a lull Thursday, the United States government was reported to have bought about 2,000,000 bushels of wheat yesterday. Most of the buying—about 1,750,000 bushels or more—was reported in the northwest.

Some of the wheat futures buying today was considered lifting of hedges against the cash sales to the government agency.
